We will learn the answer to these questions and more:
• When should you start the search for a PI?
• How do you approach that search?
• What aspects of a PI and institution are important to consider?
• What do you need to prepare for the interview?
• What questions should you ask current and former lab members?
• Do these answers differ if I have a specific career in mind?

This event is open to graduate students and postdocs. Sponsored by School of Graduate Studies and the Office of Postdoctoral Affairs.
